Participants in the first (1987/1988) Continuing-Education Course on Tribology by the faculty of Applied Science and Engineering at the University of Toronto inspect a large-scale laboratory model of a tilting-rod thrust bearing.

NASSIR AZIZ, University of Toronto student, poses for "put on the line" tribologists which he constructed during his undergraduate project. Bruce Stetson supported this project by a $5000 grant.
